CHECK HOMEWORK FROM LAST WEEK

Repair Sentences

1. In some cases, if everyone only paid attention to words of well-known people, it would be extremely difficult for talented but not famous ones to demonstrate their ideas although those ideas were very exciting and effective.

What he's trying to say:

If people only pay attention to famous people, ignoring those who aren't famous, they might overlook ideas that are more useful and effective.

2. Famous people are just like other people except for their popularity so their words are not usually a good choice to consider.

What he's trying to say:

Famous people are just like ordinary people. Their advice is no more valuable than someone who is not famous.

3. As an example, some actors and actresses often said many things which contradict with our traditions and genuine morality.

What he's trying to say:

Some actors and actresses say things which contradict the morals of our culture. In that case, their advice might be a waste of time.

4. We need the right and helpful opinions no matter whose those opinions are famous are not.

What he's trying to say:

We need good advice and helpful opinions whether those opinions come from famous people are from ordinary people.

HOMEWORK:

Prepare a 45 second speech. You will deliver your speech in class next week. On the TOEFL you will have 15 seconds to prepare your speech. Since this is practice, you may take more time. Record the amount of time you spend writing your speech.

TOPIC: Describe changes in technology that have affected your life, and explain what effect they have had on you as a student. Include details and examples to support your explanation.
