

Answers to TOEFL on Thursday

1. A corollary is a natural consequence or a proposition that follows one that is already proven. The correct answer here is B-result You have to work a little bit to get result out of that definition, but it's the best choice you have here.

2. The correct answer is c-the surplus of farm products

3. The correct answer is d-to find food

4. The correct answer is a. The settlements first needed to be established before people could develop their skills.

5. a-separately

6. d-used to cut down grasses for food consumption

7. b-productive