

FUMC ESL 9-12-2019 High Intermediate

Pronunciation: Practice saying these word pairs.

would wood	won one	weight wait	ward word
weak wake	weather whether	win when	which witch
whine wine	won't want	wrap rap	write right
we'd weed	worship warship	warn worn	war wore
waist waste	wise why	wheel will	wall whale

Go around the circle, listing things that:

- are a waste of time
- are associated with witches
- you might whine about
- would definitely wake you from a sound sleep
- you would do if you had the money
- visitors to the U.S. should be warned about
- you would be willing to wait in a long line for
- make you gain weight
- you have won

Using "Other" and "Another"

Read these short conversations with a partner and explain the meaning of the underlined idiom.

A: Do you write to each other?

B: We write to each other every other week.

C: Do you see Ted often?

D: I saw him the other day as a matter of fact.

E: I was watching a mother duck and her babies. When she slipped into the water, the babies followed her in one after the other.

F: How cute.

G: I am on a new diet. No sweets, little meat and mostly fruits and vegetables.

H: In other words, you are eating a healthy diet.

I: How have you been?

J: I sprained my ankle over the weekend, but other than that, I'm terrific.

K: Do you know how to get to Kay's house?

L: No. She told me, but it went in one ear and out the other.

M: After years of teaching, I'm going to graduate school. Now I'll be the one sitting in a desk listening to lectures.

N: Yes. The shoe is on the other foot.

O: I was really insulted by her comment, but I just decided to let it go.

P: It's always best to turn the other cheek.

Q: I'm sorry I wasn't able to attend your luncheon.

R: Don't give it another thought. I know you had to look after your sick child.

S: I really appreciate you helping me with my math homework.

T: One good turn deserves another. You edited my English paper.

U: I bought a kayak so I could exercise on the lake. But then I had to have paddles, a life vest and waterproof shoes. I ended up spending a lot more money than I thought I would.

V: One thing leads to another.

W: I told you not to go out when it rains. You ruined your good clothes and your new shoes. And another thing, you tracked in mud.

X: I'm sorry, Mom. I'll make it up to you, one way or another.

Using: "other", "the other" or "another"

1. Here's one of my socks, but where is _____ one.
2. I could do it, but none of _____ boys could.
3. That beer was really good. I think I'll have _____.
4. Is there _____ room we could use. This one is kind of dirty.
5. I can only wait _____ ten minutes. Then I have to go.
6. Don't worry, we'll get the money somehow or _____.
7. He shares an apartment with three _____ guys.
8. We went to the mall with Mary and _____ friend.
9. Could we discuss this _____ time.
10. The first bottle of wine we opened tasted bitter. Should we open _____ one you brought?

Discuss:

- 1-Do you have regrets about anything? What would you do if you were given another chance?
- 2-Have you ever had to "make it up to someone"? What did you do to make it up?
- 3-Have you ever bought something to start a new hobby and discovered that you needed a lot more equipment. Do you have any expensive hobbies? What hobbies would you pursue if you had the money to invest in the equipment?